Tornadoes Rock Plains States, Leave 6 Dead

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — Dazed survivors picked through the rubble of homes and business buildings today in the wake of tornadoes that slashed through eastern Kansas, western Missouri and southwestern Iowa.

Six persons were killed and at least 50 were injured.

Most of the twisters snaked out of thunderstorms that could be seen for miles in the late afternoon — otherwise the toll could have been greater.

Two lines of the storms bracketed Kansas City—one to the northwest, the other southeast—and rolled rapidly to the northeast.

The dead were:

Mrs. Jack L. Wilson, 24, Independence, Kan.; Warren Kenyan Sr., 43, Neosho, Mo., and his wife, Ella, all killed near Garnett, Kan.

Charles Hedger, 13, killed in a barn near Pleasant Grove, Mo.

Victor Kerns, 50, killed near his home northwest of Leeton, Mo.

Flora Eichhorst, 90, killed in her home at Yorktown, Iowa.

One twister sucked up a line of traffic on U.S. 59 five miles south of Garnett and hurled a 50,000-pound truck, a pickup truck and six cars in all directions, killing the Kenyans and Mrs. Wilson and injuring eight other persons.

Soviet Studies Its U.N. Dues

U.S.-British Plan May Be Accepted

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — Private talks between the United States and the Soviet Union have raised hopes in some quarters that the two powers may settle a money dispute that could shake the United Nations.

The United States has been insisting that Russia pay at least part of its share of the U.N. peacekeeping operations in the Congo and the Middle East. Otherwise, says the United States, the Russians should lose their vote in the General Assembly.

The Russians reply that such pressure could result in the "breakup of the United Nations."

Diplomatic sources report that American and Russian delegates held at least five meetings last month on an American British compromise plan. It calls for the Russians to pay part of their back assessments in exchange they would be assured more voice in peacekeeping operations and their financing.

The diplomatic sources said the Russians were considering the plan. There were indications that they were trying to make a package deal involving both U.N. finances and disarmament.

Some U.N. delegates believe the Soviet Union fears the issue will harm the United Nations and are anxious for a settlement.

That, they intimated, was the feeling among representatives of underdeveloped countries who assembled at Nigerian delegation headquarters Friday to discuss a meeting April 27 of the assembly's 21-nation working group on U.N. finances.

The working group must recommend to next fall's General Assembly how to parcel out the costs of future peacekeeping operations among U.N. members.

Glass Showers

Burglary Suspect

MOUNT VERNON, Ohio (AP) — A Delaware County man, showered with glass when shot at Sunday, is being held for investigation of burglary, the Knox County sheriff's office says.

Deputies identified him as George J. Bowe, 23, of Olive Green.

He was found in an attorney's office inside the First Federal Savings and Loan building in Centerville, they said. A Knox County deputy and Centerville's marshal responded to a call from a resident who saw someone in the building.

Bowe was showered with glass when one shot was fired through the door glass by the officers.

Lodge Is Ohio Favorite

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Mock Republican conventions were held in Ohio over the weekend and Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge was the overwhelming choice in all three. They were staged at Capital, Kent State and John Carroll Universities.

LBJ CONDUCTS IMPROMPTU TOUR — It was a balmy spring day so the President felt like walking around the spacious lawn back of the White House. Tourists outside of the gate spotted him and waved to him and he waved back inviting them in for a guided tour. Here, he leads a group along a walk through the south lawn, which takes up most of the 18 acres of White House grounds.

Poles To Back Khrush In Fuss with Red China

MOSCOW (AP)—Polish Communist leaders arrived in Moscow today for talks to strengthen Premier Khrushchev in his bitter dispute with the Chinese Communists.

Polish Communist party boss Wladyslaw Gomulka said on his arrival with Premier Josef Cyrankiewicz that the Polish and Soviet Communist parties "have the same views of the tasks of the Socialist camp, of the strategy and tactics of the international movement."

Any actions directed against the unity of Communist countries "are harmful and irresponsible," Gomulka said.

The Poles support Khrushchev against Red China, but they have been reluctant to go along with a Kremlin proposal for a showdown conference of world Communist parties.

In his television speech Sunday night, Khrushchev denounced the Chinese as "split-ters" of the world Communist movement who eventually want to take over its leadership. He made no mention of any world meeting of communism.

Khrushchev abandoned the Soviet Communist party's claim of dominance over world communism, saying "those times have gone, never to return."

But he said the Chinese were trying to achieve the control Stalin once exercised over the Red bloc by taking a "special course which is a blend of petty bourgeois adventurism and great-power chauvinism."

"The disruptive activities of the Chinese leaders have caused serious difficulties in the world Communist movement," Khrushchev admitted.

To deal with the problem, he called for direct meetings between Communist parties — as equals rather than teacher and pupil. He apparently has in mind the kind of direct talks he held last week with Hungarian leaders in Budapest rather than the gathering of the world's more than 90 Communist parties which Soviet ideologist Mikhail Suslov proposed.

Direct talks now begin with the Poles. The Hungarians gave Khrushchev full public support against the Chinese.

Auto-Stuffing Stunt Is Sure Sign of Spring

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Springtime exuberance pops up in curious ways among youthful members of the species Homo sapiens. Here's the latest.

Anid grunts, groans and gasps for air, the Phi Kappa Theta fraternity at Loyola University claimed a record Sunday by stuffing 32 of their leanest members into a standard-size auto sedan.

All Office Seekers Invited

'Meet the Candidates' Rally Slated April 25 by Jaycees

A "Meet the Candidates" rally, scheduled as a bi-partisan, overall political gathering, will be conducted here April 25 under sponsorship of the Circleville Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The rally, slated for the Fairgrounds Coliseum, will serve as a forerunner to the May 5 primary here — an election that already has drawn considerable interest in this locality. All area candidates, regardless of political affiliation, have been invited to participate.

Records indicate this is the first such project undertaken here that embraces all political aspirants listed on the election ticket. G. Ninde Lawson, Jaycees program chairman, said the venture is based on the premise that enlightened democratic citizenship and intelligent exercise of the voting privilege can be achieved only if the principles and platforms of candidates are understood by the electorate.

"It is felt," Lawson said, "that this event will offer candidates for county offices and state representative an unequal opportunity to present themselves and their views to a maximum representation of Pickaway Countians."

THE PROPOSED program will get under way at 7 p. m. with a round of entertainment. The rally itself will start at 7:30.

Free refreshments will be offered. Jaycees personnel are urging residents to bring their families, including children.

Letters of invitation have been sent to all 30 candidates involved in the local level in the coming primary. In developing their format for the evening, Jaycees committeemen have expressed hope the candidate representation will be 100 per cent.

Grissom, Young Get OK on Gemini Flight

Rail Issues Under Study

President Keeps Eye on Parley

WASHINGTON (AP)—In virtual secrecy, rail management and labor representatives resumed issue-by-issue bargaining today a stone's throw from the White House, knowing that failure to agree by April 25 could touch off a coast-to-coast strike.

The negotiators are working under a temporary truce effected by President Johnson and under the guidance of a presidentially arranged five-man team of special mediators. The sessions began at the White House and have moved across the street to the Executive Office Building so the President can pop in and otherwise make the two sides aware of his interest.

By arrangement, White House press secretary George Reedy is the sole source of information about the bargaining and except for word that issue-by-issue bargaining was under way and that both sides were showing "a sincere desire to settle" he has been reluctant to pass on details.

It would be an "utmost exercise in futility" to try to predict an outcome, Reedy said Sunday. He did venture the view that the mediators obviously must have felt some optimism when they decided to bring the opposing parties into the same conference room.

The mediators had been shuttling from one side to the other before bringing the rail executives and brotherhood chiefs face to face Sunday afternoon. The session continued into the night.

This last-ditch round of negotiation apparently is the only possible source of solution to the tangled work rules dispute. Johnson has exhausted all presidential actions provided by existing legislation and Congress is reluctant to get entangled in the subject again.

At his news conference Saturday, the President said he is not considering any new legislation that would take the dispute out of the hands of the carriers and the unions.

Greek-Turk Fighting Continues in Cyprus

NICOSIA, Cyprus (AP) — Fighting between Greek and Turkish Cypriots continued today for the third day in Kyrenia Pass. But there still was no sign the Greeks have launched an all-out onslaught against the separatists.

Gunfire sounded again about 7 a. m. after an overnight lull. A U.N. spotter plane flying over the craggy ridge, where both sides are well entrenched, reported a "lot of activity."

New Wheat Plan Is Announced

WASHINGTON (AP) — New cotton and wheat stabilization programs, retaining planting allotments established earlier for 1964 crops, have been announced by Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman.

Freeman announced the provisions of the programs, which affect growers, producers and exporters, shortly after President Johnson signed the cotton-wheat bill Saturday.

The legislation will provide about $1 billion in payments to wheat and cotton farmers and subsidies to domestic cotton mills.

The wheat program, which includes a national planting allotment of 49.5 million acres, divides growers into two groups—those who plant and harvest within allotments and those who don't.

Farmers who cooperate with the allotments will be eligible for:

1. Price supports at the national average of $1.30 a bushel
2. Government-issued marketing certificates on 90 per cent of the normal wheat yield on their allotments.
3. For the remaining 10 per cent of their normal yield, they will get whatever price the market offers.
4. In addition, they will be eligible for payments on wheat land diverted under the wheat allotment program. The diversion payments will be 20 per cent of the county's wheat support rate multiplied by the normal yield of the diverted acres. Farmers will be permitted to divert up to 20 per cent of their allotment.

Cooperating farmers will not be allowed to exceed acreage allotments assigned them on other crops grown on the farms.

SEATO Due To Take Look At Its Pact

MANILA (AP) — The Southeast Asia Treaty Organization's 10th anniversary ministerial conference went into secret session today for what was expected to be the most penetrating analysis of the eight-nation pact since it was formed.

Two Asian members, Thailand and the Philippines, indicated at the opening session today that the time has come for some hard talking on the alliance's ability to stem Communist aggression.

France, which recently recognized Communist China and advocates the neutralization of Southeast Asia, also said the time has come "to do away with myths, to eliminate ambiguities and squarely to face realities."

France will face some candid questioning on its neutrality proposal, which has been rejected by the United States, Thailand and the Philippines.

U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk, in his opening address, cited such major problems of the area as South Viet Nam's war, the ineffective neutrality in Laos, the Indonesian confrontation of Malaysia and economic problems of the whole region.

Emergency State Capital Plan Eyed

ATHENS, Ohio (AP) — State and local officials will meet here Wednesday to formulate plans to make Ohio University the emergency seat of state government in the event of a threatened or actual enemy attack on this country.

Attending the meeting will be officials of the Ohio Civil Defense Division, Department of Adjutant General, and county, city and university representatives.

In the event of an emergency, 30 state departments would be moved to Athens and would utilize 42,500 square feet of floor space on the university campus.

2-Man Orbit Due This Year

Trip Is Prelude To Moon Landing

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Maj. Virgil I. Grissom and Lt. Cmdr. John W. Young were selected today as the astronauts who will pilot the nation's first two-man space flight—a three-orbit Gemini mission late this year.

The back-up crew for the first manned flight of Project Gemini will be Cmdr. Walter M. Schirra Jr. and Capt. Thomas P. Stafford.

Gemini is the intermediate phase of the long-range training program that has an objective of placing Project Apollo astronauts on the moon within the decade.

Of the four men selected today at the Manned Spacecraft Center, the training base for astronauts, only Schirra has made an orbital flight.

Grissom made a suborbital flight of 142.1 miles downrange from Cape Kennedy Sept. 13, 1961, and Schirra followed with a six-orbit mission Oct. 3, 1962.

Young and Stafford, former test pilots, became astronaut trainees Sept. 17, 1962.

Rights Bill Foes Said 'Ridiculous'

CINCINNATI (AP) — U. S. Rep. Robert Taft Jr. has urged Ohio Republicans not to be misled "by a barrage of propaganda on the civil rights bill."

Taft, who is seeking the GOP senatorial nomination, said Sunday opponents of the bill have been trying to drum up support by making ridiculous statements about the bill, which is now pending in the U. S. Senate. Taft's opponent for the nomination, Secretary of State Ted W. Brown, has been criticizing him for having helped to write the measure.

The congressman said anyone who felt he was unjustly treated under the bill "would have federal court rights of appeal," and added that it does not call for preferential treatment of minority groups.

"It merely demands that there be no discrimination," Taft said in his talk to the Ohio Republican Council.

Taft also said the bill would not give the U.S. attorney general any powers he does not already have, namely "the right to go to court."

U. S. Rep. William McCullough of Piqua shared the platform with Taft and praised his work on the bill.

College Campus Offered for Rent

MOUNT CARROLL, Ill. (AP) — For rent: One college and campus.

President F. J. Mullin of Shimer College announced Sunday that his school's 14 buildings and 45-acre campus will be available for a "modest fee" during the summer to corporations or other organizations.

The renter will have use of the college's indoor swimming pool, outdoor tennis courts and a nine-hole golf course. The campus is in western Illinois near the Mississippi River.

The object of renting, Mullin said, is to "pick up a little extra money."

Columbus Housewife Set for Flight to Hawaii

WAKE ISLAND (AP)—Jerrie Mock of Columbus, Ohio, is preparing to fly to Honolulu—the next stop in her bid to become the first woman to fly solo around the world.

She arrived here Sunday after an 11½-hour flight from Guam. About 600 persons at this mid-Pacific island greeted her as she stepped from her single-engine plane.

Stock Mart Prices Mixed

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market turned mixed early this afternoon. Airlines were down on profit taking.

The market was ahead in early trading but gains were trimmed as the session continued. Trading was moderately active.

A generally higher trend prevailed among cigarette issues, rails, rubbers, motors and utilities.

Oils, building materials, retail, electrical equipments and aerospace stocks were mixed. Drugs and steels were generally lower.

A scattering of selected issues received a speculative play.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .5 at 304.4 with industrials up .6, rails up .4 and utilities up .2.

Dead Cleric Is Eulogized

Cincinnati Racial Memorial Is Held

CINCINNATI (AP) — "When men find something for which they can die, other men find something for which they can live."

The Rev. Fred Shuttlesworth spoke the words to a quiet group of 200 persons who gathered yesterday for a memorial service in honor of the Rev. Bruce W. Klunder, the Cleveland minister who was killed in a civil rights demonstration in Cleveland last week.

"If nothing else can be learned by this man's death," the Rev. Mr. Shuttlesworth, a civil rights leader, said, "it is that we had better oppose a system that is . . . sinful."

"We have a great big job to do in this country and too few are willing to demonstrate. It is for us to say that we, too, are dedicated to the cause that our country must be the land of the free and the home of the brave even if we must lay down our lives in sacrifice."

The Rev. Mr. Klunder died when he threw himself behind a bulldozer at a school construction site. He was among demonstrators protesting that construction of the school would segregate the area.

The memorial service was held in Garfield Park and the group then marched five blocks to Cincinnati's downtown Fountain Square. Both white and Negroes participated and there were no incidents.

The Rev. Robert Johnson of Greenhills Community Church and a classmate of the Rev. Mr. Klunder at Yale Divinity School, announced that a Klunder family fund has been started in Cincinnati.

Another speaker, Clyde Vinegar, chairman of the local Congress of Racial Equality chapter, said "the death of Rev. Klunder to us has been a new breath of life. It has given us new energy. We believe his death has set the pattern. We believe that if we have to lay our bodies in front of tractors we will do it."

News of World in Brief

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's general fund showed a $14.7 million unencumbered cash balance at the end of March, compared with a $4.4 million overcommitment a month earlier, Finance Director Richard L. Krabach said today.

The cash balance of all funds increased from $159 million to $195 million during March.

General funds increased during the month from $35.5 million to $77.2 million, including rotary, wildlife and other earmarked funds.

Of the $46.5 million balance, $31.8 million was encumbered to meet outstanding obligations.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Two horsemen denied 1964 harness driver-trainer licenses may have hearings next month, the State Racing Commission said today.

The tentative date is May 13.

The two who are appealing are Edward M. Morgan Jr. of Castown in Miami County and Arnold George Ursitt of Portsmouth. Both are among those suspended by the United States Trotting association after a probe into alleged collusion.

WINTHROP, Mass. (AP) — Police Sgt. Paul Abely complained of a ringing in his ears today and nobody was the least bit surprised.

Abely hid among the organ pipes at St. John's Episcopal church through two services Sunday to find out why Sunday donations have fallen off so drastically.

His efforts paid off. He saw a youth rifling a safe in the sacristy.

Charles Eaton, 20, a former member of St. John's choir, was charged with the theft of $950 over the past three months.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — A Soviet professor who was granted asylum in the United States last January after fleeing or jumping from a building at Harvard University has returned to the Soviet Union, the Boston Globe said today.

The newspaper said Yuri Asseyev, 35, former professor at the University of Leningrad, left by plane for his homeland Sunday after reconsidering his plea for asylum.

LIBREVILLE, Gabon (AP) — Mounting returns in Gabon's elections today reduced the lead of backers of pro-French President Leon Mba.

As results reached the capital from the rain-soaked interior of this West African nation, candidates of Mba's bloc saw their earlier comfortable lead threatened.

At stake in the election of 47 Parliament members was France's economic interest in Gabon, whose uranium she needs.

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Making political prisoners in Cuba listen to Fidel Castro's speeches over and over is one of several means used to torture them, a former prisoner says.

Dr. Mario Robau, a physician who said he was assigned to treat fellow inmates in Havana's La Cabana Prison, said the speech treatment "breaks the prisoners' nerves."

Dr. Robau, recently arrived by way of Mexico, told a news conference Sunday that another torture was to sick German shepherd dogs on prisoners.

The dogs are trained to search, he said.

Dr. Robau said he was imprisoned a year ago without charge and released in January.

SALISBURY, Southern Rhodesia (AP) — Winston Field resigned today as prime minister of Southern Rhodesia, and British Gov. Sir Humphrey Gibbs named Treasury Minister Ian Smith to succeed him.

Both Smith and Field are members of the conservative Rhodesian Front party, which holds 35 of the 65 seats in the legislature and is pledged to maintain the white minority's rule of the self-governing British territory.

Field, in office since December 1962, lost his party's support because its right wing considered him too moderate. Political circles look for tougher government policies and possibly a declaration of independence from Britain.

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union launched a second unmanned maneuverable space station Sunday, rousing speculation it may be getting ready to attempt an orbital rendezvous by manned space craft.

The new Sputnik, Polyot-2, was launched on the third anniversary of the world's space flight by Yuri Gagarin. Polyot-1 was sent up last November.

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Charging the Indian government is weak and paralyzed, opposition political groups today called on ailing Prime Minister Nehru to resign.

Delhi state units of the Socialist and Praja Socialist parties, plus several smaller opposition factions, warned they will open "agitation" in the capital unless Nehru quits by Aug. 15.

Battleship Vets To Hold Reunion

The first annual reunion of all officers and men that ever served in a U. S. Battleship will be held in San Diego, Calif., at the El Cortez Hotel August 6-9.

Detailed information as to the activities for the four-day reunion will be promulgated as soon as they are firmed up. In addition to a dinner-dance, it is hoped that arrangements can be made for a cruise out to sea aboard a Navy Ship for one of the reunion days.

A world wide man hunt is now on to contact every officer and man who has had duty on a U. S. Battleship, whether he be a fleet admiral or seaman, whether still in the Navy or out. Any Marine who served aboard is also eligible.

The battleship era spans from 1895 until 1959, a period of 64 years. The last American battleship to be laid up was the USS Wisconsin.

The newly formed American Battleship Assn. is most desirous of having as many ex-BB officers and men sign up for this gala annual event as possible. Whether they can attend the reunion or not, it is hoped that they will join the ABA. Membership cards will be sent to those joining. A master roster will be mailed to all members.

Further information may be obtained by writing to: American Battleship Association, P. O. Box 11199, San Diego, Calif. 92111.

year, Grissom has held a primary assignment as coordinator of Gemini affairs with other members of the astronaut team that now totals 29 pilots.

Schirra, now 41, is the oldest of the original seven Mercury astronauts now that Lt. Col. John Glenn has resigned from the program. Glenn is 42.

Schirra, while concentrating on the Gemini program, has been a coordinator of operations and training.

Young has specialized on the design and development of environmental control systems, survival gear, pressure suits, couches and other personal equipment. Stafford has specialized on communications, instrumentation and range integration.

The flight will be the first American manned effort since Maj. Gordon Cooper orbited the earth 22 times in a Mercury capsule May 15, 1963.

The Gemini program is a bridge between Mercury and the Apollo moon landing project. It was announced Dec. 17, 1961, as a plan to extend the Mercury program with the development of a two-man spacecraft.

Prime objectives of Gemini are to determine man's ability to function for long periods in space and the feasibility of rendezvous and docking in orbital flights.

'Oscar' Nominee Is Sour On Whole Award Business

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — As a nominee for the best supporting actress award, Dame Edith Evans will attend the Academy

Awards tonight. But she takes a dim view of the whole affair. "Why, they didn't even ask me if I wanted to be nominated," she said. "If they had, I would have said no."

Her statement is reminiscent of George C. Scott's last year, when he asked to be removed from the list of supporting actor nominees because the whole thing was "so commercial." It isn't that at all with Dame Edith.

"I simply don't like the idea of competing for something or other," she said. "Acting is not a competition, like a foot race." It's possible that she has also soured on acting awards because of a past experience. She told of winning a prize in a newspaper contest for the best acting of the year in her first movie, "The Queen of Spades." She was supposed to get a thousand pounds, but the donors reneged, arguing that the government said it would be bad for the balance of payments.

"That didn't make sense, because I would have spent it in England," she said.

She added another incident: "Some stranger came up excitedly in the street and said I had just won an acting award. Not only did I not receive it; it was never again given to anyone."

Dame Edith was named for her role as the peppery aunt in "Tom Jones," along with fellow players Diane Cilento and Joyce Redman.

A vigorous 75, she has long been one of the great ladies of the English theater and she bears her honors with dignity. She was named dame of the British Empire in 1946 by George VI.

Stock Mart Weathers Big Steel's Jolt

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market last week weathered some unsettling news—the indictment of eight steel companies on charges of price fixing and the renewed threat of a railroad strike.

The stock list remained on an even keel. More stocks advanced than declined. Of 1,528 issues traded, 729 rose and 620 fell.

The Dow Jones industrial average, however, took a minor loss of 1.24 at 821.75.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was up .6 at 303.9. Since the market was near its highest level in history at the time the adverse news came, the ability of stocks to digest such news without a wave of selling caused market analysts to comment on the obvious technical strength of the list.

Volume totaled 27,468,360 shares compared with 29,690,790 for the previous week.

Steel production for the week was at a ten-month high. The government reported that consumer credit rose in February by the largest amount in more than four years.

President Johnson's announcement that the rail strike threat had been postponed 15 days provided the basis for a recovery by rail stocks on Friday and a fairly good advance by the overall market.

The five most active issues last week on the New York Stock Exchange were Chrysler, up 3 1/2 at 48 on 500,600 shares; Texas Gulf Sulphur, up 3 1/2 at 30 3/4; Transiron, up 2 1/2 at 6 1/2; Radio Corp., up 1/2 at 35 1/2; and Fairchild Camera, up 1/2 at 29 1/2.

Lodge Is Given Nod In Cleveland Convention

CLEVELAND (AP) — Some 1,500 student delegates to a mock Republican national convention at John Carroll University Sunday nominated Henry Cabot Lodge for president. Lodge, the U.S. ambassador to South Vietnam, received 761 votes to 554 for former vice president Richard Nixon on the fourth ballot. Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona received three votes.

New York World's Fair Is Billion-Dollar Show

NEW YORK (AP) — It's a billion-dollar show. The 1964-65 New York World's Fair which opens April 22 will be an expensive and lavish spectacle.

Attendance originally was estimated at 70 million admissions for the two seasons of operation. But now, with 28 million tickets already sold, there are predictions that attendance may reach 100 million.

It will be a mile-square panorama of the wonders of yesterday, today and tomorrow, blending together achievements of science, education, religion, art, philosophy, music and culture.

The visitor will travel back through millions of years of the earth's history and peer into the far future. And he will see first-hand the best of what the world has to offer today in exhibits from around the world.

Theme of the giant exposition—four years in the making—is "Peace Through Understanding."

About 60 foreign countries will have pavilions or displays featuring their arts, crafts, cuisine and culture.

From the United States, about half the 50 states are represented, many with extensive displays and shows. The federal government, with one of the largest shows on the grounds, will have a sweeping variety of things to see and do—including a "you are there" journey through the sights and sounds of American history.

Some astonishing spectacles have been created by the giants of American commercial enterprise—General Motors, General Electric, Bell Telephone, Ford, Eastman Kodak, Du Pont.

So extensive are their shows and displays that the visitor can spend the better part of a half day viewing each.

The most spectacular parts are arranged in the form of tours which last 12 to 15 minutes. These may be viewed from moving chairs or vehicles which create a feeling of almost personal and private tours.

Here is a brief description: General Motors — In the "Futurama" visitors will be seated in a train of contoured chairs, with miniature loudspeakers mounted in the headrests for music and description of the sights.

The visitor will, in effect, be whisked to the moon to see man and machine at work exploring it. There will be scenes depicting how man will conquer the polar areas, jungles, deserts and live, work and play underneath the seas. The tour lasts 15 minutes and concludes by taking the citizen of today into the city of tomorrow.

General Electric — A multifaceted exhibition called "Progressland" will feature a demonstration of thermonuclear fission, seeing and hearing an atomic blast.

A "Carousel of Progress," witnessed from moving seats, employs lifelike and animated human figures created by Walt Disney. It depicts home living conditions from the 1880s to the present.

A "skydome spectacular" uses the building's inner dome in planetarium-like fashion for a striking dramatization of the power of nature's energy sources.

Bell Telephone—The keynote of the exhibition will be another chair ride with music and description through the history, present and future, of communications.

Effects employ motion pictures, stage settings, lighting, special scenery, optical illusions and multiple screens.

The building also will feature

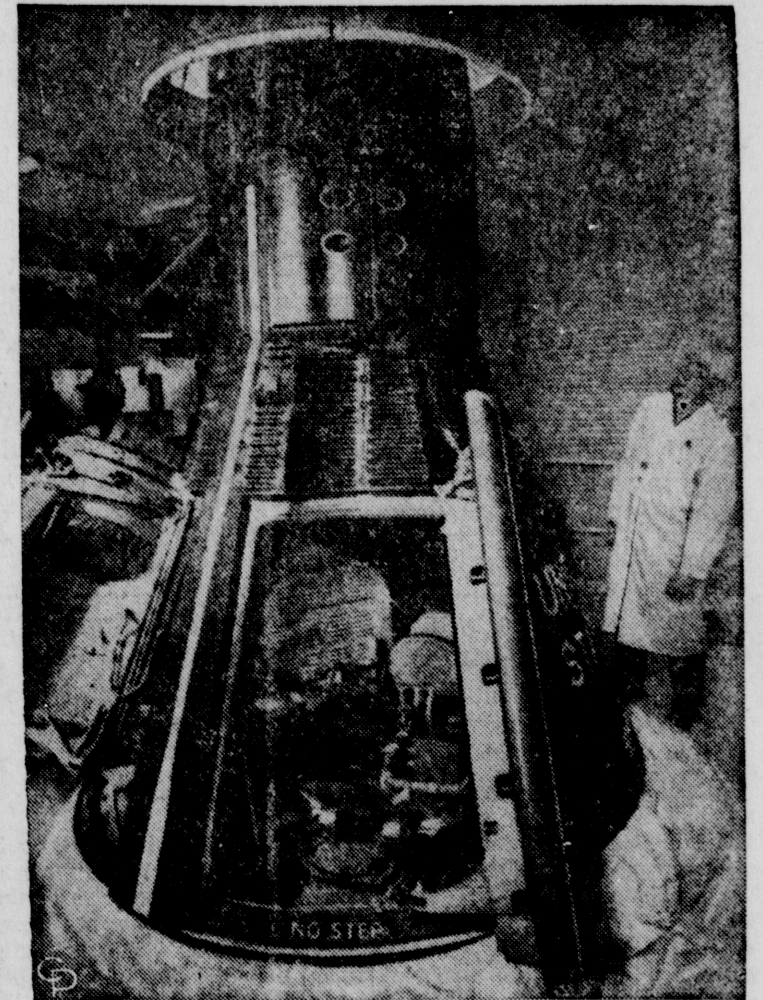

Ohio Wesleyan Wins In College Bowl Again

NEW YORK (AP)—Ohio Wesleyan University's "College Bowl" team will seek its fifth straight victory on the nationally televised quiz show next Sunday against Alfred (N. Y.) University. The Wesleyan team won in its fourth appearance Sunday over Michigan Technological University, 170-145.

Members of the Wesleyan team are Richard Pepp, Philadelphia, Kathy Lesby, Peebles, Ohio; Ann Hofstra, Chevy Chase, Md.; and Bill Shaffer, Birmingham, Mich.

Kent Staters Prefer Lodge as Candidate

KENT, Ohio (AP)—Delegates from four colleges taking part in Kent State University's mock Republican national convention, named Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge as the GOP presidential nominee. Loss for Cuba

Nothing could have been predicted with more certainty than the outcry emanating from Cuba over displacement of the Goulart regime in Brazil. The anguish is understandable. Under Goulart, the Brazilian government downgraded the Castroite danger and consistently sought to block or soften hemispheric countermeasures.

Efforts to vote Cuba out of the Organization of American States in 1962 found the Brazilian delegate resisting to the final countdown. A compromise was then effected to drop Cuba from the OAS Defense Council.

At the height of the missile crisis later that year, Brazil's spokesmen were defending Cuba's right "to carry out its political experiment free of serfdom to international interests." Even though the laboratory equipment included Soviet rockets!

Again in April 1963, Brazil led the opposition to an OAS investigation of possible Cuban subversion in the Western Hemisphere. On the theory, perhaps, that ignorance is blissful.

Most recently, Brazil has been resisting inter-American sanctions against Cuba after an OAS inquiry turned up evidence of Castro-supplied arms, pesos and guerrillas in Venezuela. And that was just when Venezuela was trying to conduct a free election with an honest ballot.

Such consistency on Brazil's part will be missed, judging from the howls arising from representative journals of the Castro-controlled press.

Reporters Don't Lie

By John Chamberlain

The veracity and taste of reporters who took notes on conversations with General MacArthur ten years ago for subsequent release to posterity have been called into question. But the reporters don't need to worry about corroboration, for others besides themselves heard MacArthur outline his views on men and events, though not necessarily for authorized direct quotation at any time.

Does it come as a surprise to the current reading public that MacArthur suspected that somebody was tipping Western decisions in the Korean War to the Red Chinese? Or that he had suggested using atomic materials and bombs to end the war against the Chinese and North Koreans? Or that the considered officials in Washington, both military and political, to be "fools" and "timid men"?

The fact is that MacArthur was only discreet in his stipulations that he must not be quoted directly without authorization. I know this because of the limitations which he put upon General Charles A. Willoughby when the forceful and competent G-2 officer who was with him from the Philippines all the way to Korea was making a book out of papers from the MacArthur intelligence files. Some of the indirect reflections of MacArthur's thinking which Willoughby was permitted to use are extremely revealing today, and they back up the recently published revelations of reporters Jim Lucas and Bob Considine.

Eleven years ago General Willoughby outlined MacArthur's proposal for finishing off the Chinese Communists in North Korea. "For psychological as well as other reasons," so Willoughby wrote, "MacArthur proposed by constant thrusts to regain the Seoul line for a base of operation from which to clear North Korea of enemy forces. This could be accomplished through the air destruction of enemy concentration and installations, the closing of major lines of enemy supply and communication through the sowing of defensive fields of suitable radioactive materials available as by-products of atomic manufacture."

The important thing about this revelation that MacArthur was considering the use of radioactive material is not that Willoughby wrote it, but that MacArthur passed upon it, as he did in the case of every other word in the Willoughby book. I know about MacArthur's "editing," for as Willoughby's collaborator I was sometimes blue-pencilled.

As for the Red Chinese access to Western diplomatic and military decisions, Willoughby quoted some staff notes set down after MacArthur's Wake Island meeting with President Truman. "How little did MacArthur realize," so that quotation reads, "that by one process or another it would be conveyed to the Red Chinese that even though they entered the fray in large forces, it would be under the sanctuary of being immune from any destructive action... that not even to save the lives of our men or insure the safety of our army would we permit the air force to drop the atom bomb on military targets... that the Red Chinese commander apparently knew such a decision would be forthcoming while General MacArthur did not, represents one of the blackest pages ever recorded."

General MacArthur read that and okayed it for publication, too. He was convinced that the Red Chinese entered the war because they knew it would be fought on their terms.

The "fools" and "timid men" in Washington almost prevented MacArthur from undertaking the amphibious operation at Inchon, which flanked the North Koreans and kept the UN forces from being pushed out of South Korea entirely. The Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, Omar Bradley, has said that amphibious operations were obsolete, and, according to Willoughby's statement, which MacArthur passed, "the Chief of Staff, General Collins, and Chief of Naval Operations, Admiral Sherman, had flown on a special mission to Tokyo for the express purpose of persuading MacArthur against this operation."

Thus, though controversies will probably continue about the exact shading of certain pungent expressions attributed to MacArthur, the history that is written by participants and by historians will back up the reporters. Our journalists may err at times by taking sides in political fights, but they do not make things up out of whole cloth.

LAFF-A-DAY

Try and Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

COLONEL WILLIAM CODY made a contract with the Kansas Pacific Railroad in 1867 to supply their laborers with as much buffalo meat as they could possibly eat, and found himself a nickname — "Buffalo Bill" — by which he will long be remembered. He promptly organized a Wild West show and toured in triumph all the way from Omaha, Neb., to Paris, France.

To please the kids at the first matinee Buffalo Bill's Wild West show played in New York, he announced that he was going to give as a door prize a full set of cowboy regalia to a boy who held the lucky ticket. By an amazing coincidence, the winner turned out to be the son of the general manager of the show. More miraculous still, that same kid had the winning number three more times in succession. The event had to be abandoned, however, when the ungrateful recipient of the equipment refused to give it back and won permanent possession by threatening to snitch to the newspapers.

Minneapolis sage "Mox" Lindquist met an old friend who had taken up story writing as a career. "Have you sold anything yet?" asked Mox. "Yes," nodded his friend. "My dress suit, some furniture, and my watch."

EDITOR'S NOTE — We welcome letters to the editor. They must be signed by the writer with a complete return address. However, the name and address will not be used in the published letter upon request of the writer. Opinions expressed in this column are those of the writers and not necessarily those of The Herald.

Dear Editor:
As parents we are concerned with the prevalent sex immorality of our community.

We realize the children or youth who get mixed up in the immoral sex involvement are from better homes and all walks or environments.

It behooves us as parents to wake up. We are the delinquents — when we let our children set their own standards and rules and relinquish the obligations and privilege of being a part of their activities.

Most of the involvement or blame has been placed upon the parents, who let their children off at the Canteen, then expect them to remain at their place of deposit for the evening.

Unless parents take time to know where their children or youth are and be a part of their lives, there is no solution.

By giving our children too much freedom to soon in life, we rob them of their precious childhood days with only guilty and improper use of their God given bodies and lives.

Sixteen years of age is early enough for dating and canteen activities with the opposite sex. Maybe this would help prevent the teenage pregnancies, teenage marriages and divorces.

We owe our children an opportunity to grow up in an environment of love and with restrictions and discipline. We must care enough to take time to listen to our children's interests and their problems of growing up to be able to meet their needs.

Our children need to feel important and their needs met. This is necessary for maturing of their bodies and minds. In preparation for their role of adulthood and parenthood.

We must conserve our greatest possession — our youth. What we provide and help our children be today will reflect in the citizens of tomorrow in this great nation — whether we stand or fall. Let's ask ourselves: "Is sex becoming our nation's idol and God?"

Such things as a Young Men's Christian Association and Young Women's Christian Association sponsored building and program is one answer for recreational, social and educational opportunities which are needed in our town now. It would be a place where youth and parents could participate in a guided program to build wholesome, and healthy minds and bodies.

Its up to the community what our children will be and do. Do you care enough — parents, citizens, civic groups, churches, business groups and newspaper — to provide better environments, protection, recreation, educational and social opportunities for them?

We must all do our part to provide and make our homes, our churches and our town a place where our children can grow to be useful and worthwhile citizens because we love and care enough to face the issues of the day — and seek a better way of life for every child and youth.

We must consider every child as our own and feel the hurt when one of the least of these has gone the wrong way. Unless we give a helping hand then we have failed God, ourselves and above all our children.

May God give us strength, fortitude, courage and wisdom to rear our children in homes, churches and community, where our children can grow up in stature, wisdom and understanding for their divine purpose in life.

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has such a knack for staying in focus it's hard to recall a day he hasn't been photographed since he took office.

President Kennedy had the same knack. It's almost a hobby with Johnson.

No would-be president, particularly in an election year like this, can compete with the man in the White House in that priceless piece of political acreage: the field of public exposure.

Johnson is making full use of the advantage, but not in quite the same way as Kennedy who got special mileage from his televised news conferences. Johnson is neither as witty nor easily graceful in handling newsmen.

But he probably has more contact with them generally—and with photographers—in suddenly called, almost informal but non-televised conferences or in sudden, unexpected appearances in their midst.

So, in a bouncy kind of way, he is more unpredictable than Kennedy was. He is constantly bouncing, which seems a good word, into unpredictable situations almost all of them made to order for cameramen.

Friday, Saturday and Sunday were good examples. It should be remembered, any time you see a Johnson picture, it almost surely means a number of pictures of him in that same situation were taken from different angles by a number of photographers.

Friday — Labor-management leaders in the rail dispute met with him at the White House, trying to settle it. He was photographed with them in couples, trios and groups. Later he was pictured announcing a strike.

He was photographed discussing NATO with top American officials; getting a pass to American League baseball games from the league president, Joe Cronin; trying out his arm for the opening day's pitch; conferring with Secretary of State Dean Rusk; another in a session on the approved wheat-cotton bill.

He suddenly appeared on a White House balcony with poet Carl Sandburg, yelling "hey" to newsmen and photographers below. Appropriate pictures were snapped.

Then he suddenly bounced into the White House lobby, announcing he was ready to call a news conference. But there were no reporters there. They were all in an inner office at that moment, getting a news briefing from Johnson's news secretary, George Reedy. Johnson bounced in there for a moment, bounced out, went back to his own office.

Saturday — Various pictures of Johnson with congressmen and farm representatives as he signed the wheat-cotton bill. These pictures included the signing and shaking hands all around; more of Johnson shaking hands with classmates of his daughter, Luci, who had a White House reception for them.

More pictures when Johnson spotted sightseers outside the White House gates, ordered the gates opened for them, took them on a tour of the grounds, and waved goodbye at the end of the tour.

Then he had a news conference (more pictures) and dashed off to see Felix Frankfurter, Supreme Court justice who retired a couple of years ago after a stroke. There were no pictures of Frankfurter but on the way out Johnson was photographed shaking hands with the elevator man and the cook.

But the day wasn't done. Johnson went off to play golf, attired in an appropriate outfit, which meant more pictures.

Sunday — he started off the day by going to church with his wife and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara and Mrs. McNamara. There were a lot of pictures of him when he came out and went around shaking hands with practically everyone in sight.

Back to the White House. More pictures of him handshaking tourists outside the White House gates and of him walking around the grounds with the McNamaras, and then Johnson shaking hands through the gates with the sightseeing tourists. Then he went to play golf again. More pictures.

There is no hope that it can be restored by the time of the centennial of the assassination, April 15, 1965. That had been a target date until a few years ago.

But Col. Randle B. Truett, National Park Service historian, a dedicated and enthusiastic supporter of the restoration dream, says "We don't have the money—about $2 million—but we will."

There is some difference of opinion as to whether the building should be turned into an active playhouse, in view of the tragedy it symbolizes.

The site was originally occupied by a Baptist church built in 1833. Its physical properties—it could accommodate musical concerts as well as sermons—attracted John T. Ford, a theater man from Baltimore, when he came here in the fall of 1861 seeking a location for theatrical purposes.

Ford leased the building for five years, beginning Dec. 10, 1861.

Just before 1862 ended, a disastrous fire left only the blackened walls standing. A more elaborate building was built, called "Ford's New Theatre," on the same spot, and opened for business Aug. 27, 1863.

Lincoln attended just once in 1865. It was the evening of Good Friday, the stars were Harry Hawk and Laura Keane and the show was "Our American Cousin," a trifle described in the handbills as an eccentric comedy.

Shortly after 10 p.m. Booth climbed the stairs to the dress circle, walked through a passageway and slipped into the unguarded presidential box.

In the darkness, he moved behind the President who was sitting in a rocker. He fired the fatal shot, and in the excitement, leaped to the stage, ran out a back door, jumped on a horse and escaped. Booth was hunted down and shot dead 12 days later in a Virginia barn.

The theater was closed immediately after Lincoln's death, which came in a house across the street at 7:22 a.m., April 15, 1865.

TODAY In History

By James Marlow

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Monday, April 13, the 104th day of 1964. There are 262 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1830, President Andrew Jackson offered a toast that was to live in history. A South Carolina states right group had planned a dinner ostensibly to honor Thomas Jefferson, but really to embarrass Jackson. But "Old Hickory" was ready for the occasion with his toast, "Our Federal Union. It must be preserved."

On this date:

In 1743, President Thomas Jefferson, was born in Albemarle County, Va.

In 1818, the United States flag as finally approved by Congress was first raised over the House of Representatives.

In 1891, the National Society of the Colonial Dames of America was incorporated.

In 1941, German forces occupied Yugoslavia's capital, Belgrade.

In 1943, President Franklin Roosevelt dedicated the Jefferson Memorial in Washington.

Ten years ago — Australian Prime Minister Robert Menzies announced that Soviet Embassy official Vladimir Petrov had been granted political asylum after disclosing the existence of a Soviet spy ring in Australia.

Five years ago—The United States, Britain and Russia resumed talks in Geneva on discontinuance of atomic tests.

One year ago—Pope John appealed for world peace in an Easter message.

Government agents report rustlers today prowl through private forests in search of walnut trees, one of which may yield veneer worth $20,000.

Rail Strike Threatens Economy

NEW YORK (AP) — The 38-month upswing in the nation's economy has been imperiled by the threat of a railroad strike.

The threatened walkout was postponed 15 days in a dramatic announcement by President Johnson about 75 minutes before it was to start at 12:01 a.m. Friday.

If it had materialized, disrupting effects swiftly would have halted humming automobile assembly lines, shut down coal mines, crippled some major steel and chemical operations and otherwise braked the economy's brisk pace.

The latest crisis was another chapter in a dispute between unions and railroad management that began in November 1959 over employee work rules.

It was triggered by a pre-dawn strike Wednesday by 7,200 members of four railroad brotherhoods against the Illinois Central Railroad. White House terms called for prompt restoration of service on the Illinois Central.

The world of business and finance was jolted by two other events last week — government charges of a price-fixing conspiracy from 1955 to 1961 against eight leading steel companies, and a clampdown by federal regulators on the New York Stock Exchange.

But there were also some important pluses.

Steel production, continuing a strong climb, reached a rate of 125 million tons a year.

The auto industry roared along at breakneck speed.

The Federal Reserve Board reported a surge in credit buying of consumer goods in February. Consumer credit outstanding jumped $579 million, the biggest gain in four years. The price-fixing indictment by a federal grand jury in New York City was the most far-reaching of the seven antitrust indictments leveled at major segments of the steel industry in the last two years.

It alleged that U.S. Steel Corp., Bethlehem Steel Co. and six other large producers joined in secret hotel room meetings to rig charges for "extras" in sale of carbon steel sheets.

Five of the companies issued quick denials, and some promised a vigorous defense against the charges. Edmund F. Martin, vice chairman of second-ranking Bethlehem, said the allegations dealt with "ancient history" and represented government harassment.

Ohio Northern Books Korea Methodist Chief

ADA, Ohio (AP) — Bishop Whan Shin Lee, leader of the Korean Methodist Church, will be on the Ohio Northern University campus this Wednesday and Thursday to visit with students and faculty and speak in the chapel. The bishop is in the United States to attend the quadrennial meeting of the Methodist General Conference in Pittsburgh April 26-May 10.

counting for 31 per cent of industry tonnage and 26 per cent of over-all billings of $14 billion. Extras account for about one-sixth of the total sales price of sheets, used in auto bodies, household appliances and similar products.

The restrictions affecting the New York Stock Exchange were announced by the Securities and Exchange Commission. They apply to floor trading, direct buying and selling of stocks by an exchange member for his own benefit.

Rigid curbs were proposed by the SEC on floor trading effective July 1. They were acceded to by the stock exchange after exchange officials at first bridled over the severity of the SEC plan, which was relaxed slightly.

The SEC has contended that floor traders benefited from privileges denied the public generally, and their practices represented a vestige of the "private club" days of the stock exchange.

The SEC's stern stand apparently foreshadowed imposition of tightened restrictions on other phases of exchange activity in an outgrowth of the recent investigation of security market practices conducted under SEC auspices.

How Weather Looks Today

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Here is the official U. S. Weather Bureau summary of Ohio's weather:

A vigorous low pressure system in the Upper Mississippi River Valley will influence Ohio's weather Tuesday.

Winds will be from the south and southeast at 20 m.p.h. but occasionally stronger in thunderstorms. A cool air mass will bring clearing weather tonight, and Tuesday will be mostly fair and slightly cooler.

Highs Sunday ranged upward to 71 at Marietta and 70 at Youngstown. Cloudiness held overnight readings mainly in the 50s.

Rainfall amounts during the last 24 hours were mostly negligible, but locally heavy amounts may occur today.

At dawn today, thunderstorms were entering the western Ohio counties and were expected to spread across the state today.

OHIO FIVE-DAY FORECAST

NORTHERN OHIO—Temperatures will average near normals of high 57-59, low 36-40. A little cooler until warmer about mid-week and cooler toward the end of the week. Precipitation will average around one-half as showers Wednesday or Thursday and again Saturday.

SOUTHERN AND CENTRAL OHIO—Temperatures will average near normals high 59-68 and 39-44 lows. A little cooler Tuesday and slow warming until cooler on weekend. Total rainfall will average about quarter of inch with scattered thunder-showers again likely over weekend.

Dear Abby: by Abigail Van Buren

Pros and Cons about Dog

DEAR READERS: A few weeks ago, the following letter appeared in my column:

"DEAR Abby: 'Today, while I was on a school bus, the driver hit a dog. All of us kids told him about it and he just said, 'I am aware of that.' He didn't even stop to see if the dog was dead or not. None of us kids could do a thing. LOVES DOGS

I replied: "DEAR LOVES DOGS: 'The bus driver should have stopped and done what he could for the poor animal. Had the driver been alone, the crime would not have been less, but to have set such a poor example for the school children is inexcusable.' Hundreds of letters poured in.

Personals

Mrs. Leora Sayre, 410 E. Main St., attended the Ohio Home Economics Assn. annual meeting Saturday at Ohio University, Athens. "Home Economists In Today's World" was the theme for the assembly. The main speaker was Dr. A. June Bricker, Washington D.C., executive director of the American Home Economics Assn., a 53-year-old national organization which represents more than 28,000 home economists. Her topic was "Unresolved Opportunities for Home Economics".

Approximately 421 persons were present, including 23 international students representing nine countries.

OES Past Matron's Circle Plans Meet

Members of the Past Matron's Circle, Circleville Chapter No. 90, OES, will meet Wednesday at Pickaway Arms. A dessert course will be served at 1:30 p. m.

Keep that serving plate clean when you are frosting a cake! Place four strips of wax paper under the edges of the cake to form a square. After the cake is frosted you'll find it easy to pull the paper strips out from under.

Some good cooks like to use coarsely broken crackers instead of fine cracker crumbs in preparing scalloped seafood dishes.

Here are a few: DEAR ABBY: Are you nuts or something? A school bus driver is prohibited by law from stopping his bus and getting off to leave his bus unattended. That bus driver was only doing his job, and I think you owe him an apology.

IOWA BUS DRIVER DEAR ABBY: I love dogs, but if one gets in my way when I am driving, it's his funeral. My brother once put his brakes on suddenly to avoid hitting a dog on a highway, and he banged his mouth on the steering wheel, breaking off four healthy front teeth. He came very close to involving two other cars in what could have been a serious accident. SAN FRANCISCO

DEAR ABBY: That bus driver was smart to go right on instead of stopping to care for the dog he hit in the road. When I was young (and pretty stupid) I struck a dog on the highway. I stopped and tried to get the injured animal into my car so I could take him to the vet's. He was slightly mad and, in his frenzy, bit me badly on the face. I had to have 16 stitches in my cheek. That was 23 years ago, and I still carry a very ugly scar. Smart people don't go near injured animals. They report them to the proper authorities at the first opportune moment. KENT, OHIO

DEAR ABBY: If that bus driver in Kokomo had stopped to investigate the injured dog, can you imagine what could have happened if some of the school children followed him out of the bus to investigate also? Perhaps the bus driver would have been responsible for a couple of dead children. MOTHER OF SIX

DEAR ABBY: Although the bus driver did the right thing in not stopping, I think he could have said more than, "I am aware of that" when the children told him he had hit a dog. Had he explained that he could not stop, but would report the accident as soon as he got the children to their destination, he would have put the children at ease and not have given them the impression that he didn't care whether he had killed a dog or not. Mrs. Cress Entertains

Circle No. 6

Mrs. Virgil Cress, 153 Montclair Ave., was hostess when members of Circle No. 6 of the First Methodist Church met recently. Mrs. Richard Wilson and Mrs. E. H. Marshall were co-hostesses.

Mrs. Robert Johnson, acting chairman, opened the business meeting. Mrs. Frank Hoffman, treasurer, reported that the quota has been obtained. It was announced that the Fellowship Dinner will be held 6:30 p. m. May 6 with each Circle responsible for a different food.

Mrs. Wendell Turner presented the program using as her theme, "Where Does a Christian Woman Use Her Life?" Mrs. Dorothy Gerhardt, Mrs. Lawrence Johnson, Mrs. Vernon Hawks and Mrs. Paul Johnson, assisted. Devotions were given by Mrs. Jacques Sweeney.

Revival Plans Discussed By Dorr Class

Plans for a forthcoming Revival were discussed when the Dorr Class of First Baptist Church met in the home of Mrs. Emil Kurtz.

The Rev. Mike Gilcrest from Texas will be the evangelist for the Revival to be held April 27 through May 1.

Mrs. Kurtz, president, presided during the business session. Mrs. Bill McKenney read devotions. Mrs. Lawrence Black read the secretary's report. There were 14 members present.

It was announced the Home Mission Offering has been extended until Wednesday. Members were urged to attend the WMU Jubilee to be held Friday in Groveport.

A gift from the class was presented to Mrs. Art Brown who is moving to Arizona. Mrs. Robert Wiley closed the meeting with prayer.

The next meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. Bill McKenney.

Refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Hal Spencer.

Meeting Scheduled By Berger Guild 37

Miss Daisy Karleskint will host members of Berger Hospital Guild No. 37 at 7:30 p. m. Thursday. The meeting will be held in the guild room at the hospital.

Today in Washington

WASHINGTON (AP)—In the news from Washington:

COST REDUCTION: More than 1,200 major defense contractors have enlisted so far in the Johnson administration's cost reduction war, it was disclosed today.

There have been that many favorable replies from letters sent to 7,500 big contractors last December by President Johnson and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara.

A little-noticed Pentagon progress report circulated recently said:

"Indications are that industry's cost reduction efforts will provide the nation with a multi-million-dollar add-on to the Department of Defense's own $4 billion cost reduction undertaking."

SECURITY: A report that prowlers were in the basement of St. Mark's Episcopal church caused Secret Service agents and Washington police to conduct a thorough search Sunday morning before President Johnson and his family arrived for services.

Police found two 17-year-olds who had wandered away from a service for deaf mutes at St. Barnabas chapel in the church

Fish, Game Hearing Due On Thursday

The Pickaway County fish and game hearing will be 7:30 p. m. Thursday in the 4-H and Grange Building at the Pickaway County Fairgrounds, it was announced today by Dick Wolfrom, local game protector.

Wolfrom noted that proposed changes for the 1964-65 hunting season will be aired during the session.

Included in the proposals are a change in the opening days of the various seasons; a change in the hunting hours of the upland game season after the first two days of the season; a proposal to prohibit hunting of small game during the two-day gun season on deer.

Although the State Wildlife department lists several other changes, these should attract the most interest, according to Wolfrom. Bow and arrow season for deer will remain about the same as last year.

Pickaway County area sportsmen are urged to attend the hearing. Suggestions will be accepted from those present for other changes and will be aired at the district and state hearings, slated later this spring, the game protector pointed out.

Hawks Swamp Warriors To Even Count

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The St. Louis Hawks did everything right and the San Francisco Warriors did everything wrong Sunday night in the National Basketball Association playoffs and the score showed it:

St. Louis 123, San Francisco 95.

Warriors' Coach Alex Hannum summed it up: "There's just isn't much you can do in a game like that."

The outcome sent the clubs back to San Francisco to settle the Western Division best-of-seven final set Thursday. Each team has three victories.

The winner meets Boston, the Eastern Division playoff champion, in another best-of-seven series for the NBA title.

St. Louis, utilizing quick hands that stole the ball repeatedly and led to easy fast break baskets, stormed by the Warriors for a 59-33 halftime bulge. That settled the issue as the Hawks never let up after the intermission.

Wilt Chamberlain, who crushed the Hawks with 50 points in a 121-97 Warriors' victory Friday, left the scoring to his teammates in the first half Sunday. Content to pass off, he took only eight shots and notched only eight points by intermission.

Chamberlain began taking his shots in the second half and finished with a game-high of 34 points, but it was too late.

Men's Bowling Leaders Hold

MIDDLETOWN, Ohio (AP)—Aubrey Prewitt of Logan and Leaders in the Ohio State Men's Bowling Tournament were still holding their own as the seventh weekend of the 12-week-long event ended Sunday.

Aubrey Prewitt of Logan and Ralph Dalessandro of Orrville are now tied for third place in the singles event. Each has a 697 score. W. E. Sessions of Tiffin moved into fifth place with 696.

Still out in front in the singles is Bob Torrey of Cleveland with 748 pins. Tom Blair of Bucyrus, with 729, is in second place.

Don Toronski, also of Cleveland, is still tops in the actual score, all-events category. He had 1933 pins.

Lots of 'Ifs' Are Linked To Redlegs' '64 Finish

CINCINNATI (AP) — "Anywhere from first to sixth."

That seems to be the general opinion of the experts and would-be experts about how the Cincinnati Reds will finish as they prepare to open the 1964 National League baseball season today against the Houston Colts.

The Associated Press poll of baseball writers tabbed the Reds for fifth. The Las Vegas betting odds have them in fourth at 8-1.

Last year they finished fifth, 13 games behind pennant-winning Los Angeles.

A list of "ifs" reads like this: 1. If rookie Chico Ruiz can hit major league pitching adequately and fill the third base hole;

Crack Yank Skier Killed By Avalanche

ST. MORITZ, Switzerland (AP)—Buddy Werner, the hard-luck American ski star, lost a desperate race with an avalanche Sunday and was killed under tons of snow.

The 28-year-old Olympian was taking part in the filming of a ski fashions movie with other top skiers when the wet spring snow thundered down an Alpine slope at Samedan, a village two miles outside of this winter resort.

The avalanche also killed Barbara (Barbi) Henneberger, 23, one of West Germany's top women skiers. Fifteen others in the group dug themselves out or were freed by rescuers.

Miss Henneberger's body was found in eight feet of snow three hours after the slide. Werner's body was discovered an hour later in 10 feet. Both had suffocated.

Elsewhere in Switzerland, at least four Swiss were still missing after avalanches at Kuessnacht, in central Switzerland and Sargans, near the Austrian border.

Werner, whose first name was Wallace, made his home in Steamboat Springs, Colo., but in the last decade he spent much of his time competing on the world's ski slopes. Although he never won an Olympic medal, he was the first American male skier to be taken seriously by the Europeans.

Clevelanders To Welcome '64 Indians

CLEVELAND (AP) — A big welcome was planned today for the Cleveland Indians, who play the Minnesota Twins here Tuesday in their opening game of the baseball season.

The Indians, who completed their exhibition season Sunday by dropping a 7-6 decision to the San Francisco Giants, were to be escorted in a parade from Cleveland Hopkins Airport to the Cleveland Advertising Club downtown for a luncheon.

A crowd of about 25,000 is expected for Tuesday's game, scheduled to start at 2 p. m., in which Jim (Mudcat) Grant will pitch for the Tribe and Camilo Pascual will start for the Twins. Both are veteran righthanders.

The Indians will be under the guidance of acting manager, George Strickland, this season. Strickland stepped in from his third base coaching job to take over supervision of the club when Manager Birdie Tebbetts suffered a heart attack at Tucson, Ariz., April 1, shortly before the Indians broke camp there.

"I'll do the best job I can," says Strickland, a former Cleveland infielder. "And I think I know how Birdie would want me to handle it. But he can't come back soon enough to suit me."

2. If Frank Robinson bounces back from a dismal 1963 season; 3. If Joey Jay and Bob Purkey, who had miserable years in 1963 regain previous pitching form; 4. If Manager Fred Hutchinson can find top notch relief pitchers;

5. If Ruiz doesn't hit can Tom Harper fill the third base job and, if he does that, who is going to be the third outfielder to play alongside Robinson and Vada Pinson?

Except for third base, the Reds figure to open the season with much the same lineup as last year although Harper will be moved from third to the outfield. That will have Harper, Robinson and Pinson in the outfield; Gordon Coleman at first; sophomore Pete Rose at second; Leo Cardenas at short and Johnny Edwards as the catcher. Jim Maloney, a 23-game winner last year, and Jim O'Toole, one of the hottest pitchers in the league through the first half of 1963, figure to be cinch starters. Veteran Joe Nuxhall and John Tsitouris, a surprise 12-game winner in 1963 after a little-or-known previous major league record, are slated to be two more starters. Then come Jay and Purkey.

Among the newcomers there are Deron Johnson, a one-time New York Yankee farmhand who has hit very well in spring training and can play first base or the outfield; outfielder Mel Queen and pitchers Jim Dickson and 19-year-old Billy McCool who might help on that relief pitching job.

It is a National League tradition for the Reds to open the season at home since Cincinnati had the first professional baseball team.

Hutch Schedules Another Checkup

CINCINNATI (AP) — Cincinnati Manager Fred Hutchinson said he would fly to Seattle late today after the Reds' National League opener with Houston for a checkup on his cancer condition.

Hutchinson said the checkup was routine and he had known earlier he would have to have an April observation. He was treated for cancer in Seattle last winter under the care of his brother, Dr. William Hutchinson.

Hutchinson will rejoin the Reds Thursday in Los Angeles for a night game with the Dodgers. The Reds do not play Tuesday or Wednesday.

Chisox Spank Redlegs In Final Exhibition

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — The Chicago White Sox erupted for eight runs in the sixth inning and thumped the Cincinnati Reds 14-10 here Sunday in the last exhibition game for the clubs.

Cincinnati opens the National League season at home today against the Houston Colts.

Deron Johnson blasted two homers and Gordy Coleman hit one, but the Reds still could not stop the Chicago onslaught. Dave Nicholson and J. C. Martin homered for Chicago.

Dayton Cage Standout Signs Up with OSU

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Bill Hoskett of Dayton Belmont, Ohio's most sought after high school basketball star, has announced he will enroll next fall at Ohio State University.

The 6-foot-6 Hoskett, who led his team to the state Class AA championship, reportedly had been sought by more than 170 colleges across the nation.

He is the son of a former Ohio State star, Bill Hoskett Sr., who played for OSU in 1932-33.

CHS Tigers Split Twin Bill at WCH

The Circleville High School baseball team split a double-header at Washington C. H. Saturday, losing the first game 10-4 and winning the second 1-0.

In the second game freshman southpaw hurler Dannie Gibbs blanked Washington C. H. batters without a hit.

Circleville reserve players saw action in both games. Dave Greene was the losing pitcher in the first tilt of the twin bill.

He worked three innings, fanning four, walking two and giving up five hits. Dave Bass relieved Greene and finished the game.

BASS walked six, fanned five and was touched for five hits. It was the first mound appearance for the senior second sacker in his high school baseball career.

In spite of the loss, coach Don Neff was pleased with what he saw Saturday.

New Leaders Loom in Meet

LIMA, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Women's Bowling Tournament has new leaders in three of the four categories of competition following this weekend's play.

Esther Leonarduzzi took over first place in singles with 707, and Doris Garretson and Clara Moreo of Lima rolled the high game in doubles of 1330.

The new leader in team competition is the Harry A. Finkleman quintet with 3107. Marge Schleimer of Fairview Park retained her all-events lead of 1811 (scratch).

Palmer Proves Nothing Is Wrong with His Play

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—Not so long ago, there was a golf champion everybody liked. He won the big tournaments and did impossible things.

Soon he was rich and famous. Then he didn't win any big tournaments or do any impossible things for a while, and people said he didn't know how to, anymore. They said he was too rich, and besides he couldn't putt like he used to.

Even Arnold Palmer heard the stories.

"The question mark was as big in my mind as in anybody else's when I stepped up to the first tee here," Palmer said, after he won his fourth Masters Golf Tournament over the Augusta National Course Sunday. "It was like checking out an airplane with new spark plugs. I wasn't sure how they would function."

Grid Mothers Sponsor Meet At Westfall

Mothers of the Westfall football team sponsored a meeting for team members, all prospective players for 1964, and their parents at the Monroe Twp. School.

Asa Elsea, coach, presented films of the scrimmage sessions last year. Uniforms purchased by the Westfall Booster Club for the 1964 year were displayed.

Coach Elsea explained the use of the protective equipment, the proposed insurance plan and detailed the practice and play schedule for the coming year.

The Mother's Club, headed by Mrs. George Neff, Mrs. George Hamman III, Mrs. Earl Liff and Mrs. Norman O'Connor, invited all mothers present to join their organization, formed to promote football in the district, and to assist Coach Elsea. Mrs. Neff announced a meeting for mothers 8 p. m. Wednesday, at Monroe School. Plans for future activities of the group will be formulated.

Ortiz Is Looking For Next Challenger

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (AP)—Lightweight champion Carlos Ortiz, fresh off an impressive title defense against Kenny Lane, is expected to choose his next challenger within a month.

Bill Daley, manager of the Puerto Rican-born New Yorker, said today that Ortiz is considering three possible opponents. He has been offered $100,000 to defend against featherweight champion Sugar Ramos in Los Angeles and $60,000 to fight Willy Quatier in Berlin or Johnny Bizzarro in Pittsburgh.

In Memoriam

In loving memory of Mrs. Harley
Reed (Violet Crosby) who passed away on April 13, 1964.
In a graveyard softly sleeping
Where the flowers gently wave,
Lies the one we love so dearly
But whom we could not save.
God alone knows how we miss her
And He counts the tears we shed.
And softly whispers, "Your loved one's sleeping."
Your loved one is not dead
How we miss the smiling face
Of the one we loved so dear.
Often we catch ourselves listening
Feeling sure that she is near.
If all the world was ours to give
We'd give it, yes and more.
To see the face of the one we love
And have him back once more.
Sad missed by wife, Betty, son,
Richard, daughters, Mary, Beverly,
Barbara, and William and grandsons,
Jack, Randy and Timmy.

In loving memory of our dear

Akron Boys Win Relays

2,000 Complete In Mansfield Test

MANSFIELD, Ohio (AP) — Akron South came away with the 33rd Mansfield Relays championship Saturday as more than 2,000 athletes competed in the largest scholastic track meet in the nation.

The Cavaliers, scoring only 18 points, became the first Rubber City team ever to capture the schoolboy classic as they nosed out the host team, Mansfield Malabar, by one point.

The winning score was the lowest in the meet's history.

Taking advantage of the new Malabar asphalt rubber track and perfect weather conditions, the mammoth field of 2,271 athletes from 199 schools shattered eight records in 18 events.

The big one went to John Linta of Malabar as he became the first Ohio high school athlete ever to pole vault over 14 feet in a Buckeye meet.

The 17-year-old, 5 - 9 senior clear the bar at 14 feet, 1/2 inches to erase the record of 13-6 set a year ago by Jim Showers of Marion Harding.

Eight teams broke the old mile relay record as Cleveland John Marshall won the event in 3:25.9. Five men bettered the old half-mile record as Ricky Poole, Dayton Jefferson's state cross-country champion, triumphed in 1:56.3.

Four teams cracked the record in the two-mile relay, won by Cleveland John Marshall in 8:06.6, and three broke the old record in the medley relay as Birmingham, Mich., Seaholm won in 7:47.3.

Other records went to Bob Richards of Bloomfield Hills, Mich., with a 4:20.2 mile; Martin McGrady, Akron Garfield senior in the 440 in 49 seconds and Dayton Chaminade in the four-mile relay with 18:38.5.

Major Leagues To Open Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson, an old hand at making a pitch for votes, makes a new kind of pitch today—one opening up the 1964 American League baseball season.

A tall right-hander who describes himself as "an old first baseman," Johnson has predicted he will handle the job creditably.

After the ceremonial toss, Los Angeles and Washington, a pair of tailenders hoping for better things, will play the first game of the season.

A sellout crowd of 45,000 is expected at D.C. Stadium under variably cloudy skies, in mild weather with temperatures reaching up near 70 degrees. There is a chance of occasional showers late in the day.

The presidential pitch is an ancient ritual, dating back more than a half century. Johnson is the 10th president to honor the tradition.

In keeping with the tradition, the opener in Washington is a day ahead of the rest of the American League.

Ken McBride of Los Angeles, a right-hander, and Washington left-hander Claude Osteen will take up the pitching chores where Johnson leaves off.

Best known of the new faces in the Senators' line-up today will be Bill Skowron, former New York Yankee first baseman obtained from the Los Angeles Dodgers.

The Angels also will have a new first baseman, Joe Adcock, who came to Los Angeles along with pitcher Barry Latman in a deal that sent power hitter Leon Wagner to Cleveland.

And in Cincinnati, an overflow crowd of 32,000 fans was expected to jam into Crosley Field this afternoon for the 1964 National League baseball opener between the Cincinnati Reds and Houston Colts.

Game time was 2:30 p.m. and the Weather Bureau said "scattered heavy showers and thundershowers" predicted for today should be over by the time the familiar "play ball" was sounded.

Cincinnati traditionally gets to inaugurate each new season because it is the home of the first professional baseball team. The other eight National League teams swing into action tomorrow.

Manager Fred Hutchinson picked Jim Maloney, 23-game winner last year, to start for Cincinnati.

Houston Manager Harry Craft tabbed Ken Johnson, veteran right-hander and knuckleball specialist, as his starter. Johnson, a former Red, was 11-17 in 1963.

In pre-game fanfare, Mayor Walt Bachrach will make the first pitch to City Manager William Wichman. The batter will be Gov. James A. Rhodes.

The only newcomer in the probable Cincinnati starting line-up will be rookie Chico Ruiz. He'll be at third base and bat second. The Reds said Frank Robinson, sidelined for almost a week with a groin infection, has recovered sufficiently to take his place in rightfield.

NOTICE OF ELECTION ON ISSUE OF BONDS FOR THE CIRCLEVILLE CITY SCHOOL DISTRICT

Notice is hereby given that in pursuance of resolutions of the Board of Education of the Circleville City School District, there will be submitted to a vote of the electors of said School District at a special election to be held therein on Tuesday, the 5th day of May, 1964, the question of issuing bonds of said Board of Education in the amount of One Million Nine Hundred Sixty-Eight Thousand Dollars ($1,968,000) for the purpose of constructing new school buildings and additions to existing school buildings, provide furnishings and equipment for school buildings and acquiring and improving school sites. The maximum number of years during which said bonds are to run is twenty-two years.

The estimated average additional tax rate outside of the ten mill limitation as certified by the County Auditor is 3.575 mills for each one dollar of valuation, which amounts to 35.75 cents for each one hundred dollars of valuation.

The polls of said election will be open at 6:30 a. m., Eastern Standard Time, and remain open until 6:30 p. m., Eastern Standard Time, of said day.

By order of the Board of Elections of Pickaway County, Ohio

AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—The wonderful world of the carnival where the life and even the language is strange and foreign, was explored Sunday night by NBC with affection, humor and imaginative camera work.

The armchair visitor to a half dozen of the nation's top carnivals picked up a smattering of a culture and considerable incidental information never encountered on "Continental Classroom."

For instance our guide, veteran carnival performer Sally Rand, said that fire eaters always breathe out while doing their act and that they never use grease inside their mouths lest they burn themselves. She said sword swallowing is "really very easy," provided you can make a straight line between mouth and stomach and conquer a tendency to gag.

The amusing hour was a short course on one of the oldest forms of show business still flourishing.

CBS' excellent coverage of the final holes of the Masters golf tournament live from Augusta, Ga., showed a lot of wonderful golf, but the big lead that winner Arnold Palmer had built up took away any suspense it might have had. At the end, the big cliff-hanger was whether Palmer would break the course record. He didn't.

It wound up, unfortunately for the CBS staff, with almost a half hour of air time left. They filled it with post-mortem interviews, always anticlimactic.

The most dismally anticlimactic program of the weekend was ABC's showing of film taken of the Sonny Liston-Cassius Clay fight in February. "Wide World of Sports" dragged the six rounds out to a half hour by first showing still pictures of the fight along with comment, then the fight with pauses to show portions in slow motion. And all with a lot of talk.

Recommended tonight: "Oscar" awards show, ABC, 10-midnight EST, Jack Lemmon presides over the 36th annual ceremonies of the motion picture industry, live from Santa Monica.

Joe Cronin, now president of the American League, holds the record for longevity as a Boston Red Sox manager — 13 years from 1935 to 1947.

'Tom Jones' Favored at 'Oscar' Show

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—It's Oscar night tonight and the brilliant movie "Tom Jones" is expected to avenge the Boston Tea Party for Great Britain.

It will be very British at nearby Santa Monica Civic Auditorium with or without the bawdy farce which most movie people call the best movie since "Citizen Kane."

"Tom Jones" won 10 Academy Award nominations and is expected to win a goodly share. Most experts call it a cinch for best picture and best director for Tony Richardson.

Also odds-on favorite to win best actor is Albert Finney, who played the title role of the Henry Fielding classic. He will have potent competition from Sidney Poitier, the great Negro actor of "Lilies of the Field."

Patricia Neal of "Hud" is the favorite among top actresses, but Hollywood likes voting on past performances.

That makes Shirley MacLaine (Irma La Douce) and Natalie Wood (Love With a Proper Stranger) potent contenders.

Harsha Speaks

Moves Made To Expedite Flood Jobs

Congressman William Harsha, Ohio 6th District, today announced he had requested the Corps of Engineers to expedite construction of flood control projects and feasibility studies within his district.

Harsha said, "recent floods emphatically emphasize the great need to expedite construction of adequate flood control projects throughout the District. Included in this request were projects for Deer Creek Reservoir in Pickaway County; Big Darby in Franklin County; Paint Creek and Salt Creek Reservoir in Ross County; White Oak Reservoir in Brown County; Caesar and East Fork Reservoirs affecting Clermont County.

The lawmaker also requested the Corps of Engineers to expedite the feasibility study for the Manchester Flood wall, a re-survey of a proposed flood wall at Ripley, and the repair work to the Paint Creek Levee at Chillicothe.

Harsha indicated that he was introducing a resolution in the House of Representatives which would direct the Corps of Engineers to prepare a survey report on the practicability of a project for the protection of the area south of Paint Creek at Chillicothe.

Carry-In Dinner Held by Scouts

Thirteen members of Boy Scout Troop 484 and their families attended a carry-in dinner at the Tarlton Methodist Church Thursday.

Following the dinner, the 1964 charter for the troop was presented by Harry Diehl, district chairman, who charged John Hartley, institutional representative, and Robert Turvey, scoutmaster, with their responsibilities to the troop and the community.

Diehl outlined the need for more adult help, discussed budget items and answered questions concerning scouting from the audience.

300 Attend Elks Lodge Installation

About 300 persons were on hand Saturday evening for the annual installation dinner-dance held by Circleville BPO Elks Lodge.

Dr. William Rickey was installed as exalted ruler of the fraternal organization succeeding Leo Morgan.

The evening's program was open to Elks and their ladies and featured the dance music of Gary Dean and his "Kings Five."

The dinner was prepared by Jimmy Carpenter and his crew.

INSTALLATION was directed by Mr. David Goldschmidt and a corps of past exalted rulers of the lodge.

In addition to Rickey, officers taking oaths were:

Marshall Winner, leading knight; Gene Lindsey, loyal knight; Robert Huffer, lecturing knight; J. Russell Valentine, secretary; Warren Baker, treasurer; Harry Clifton Jr., trustee; Chester McKenzie, esquire; Forrest Webster, chaplain; Wendell Emerine, inner guard; Tom Stocklen, tiler; and Richard Plum, organist.

Construction To Resume

Cleveland Racial Dispute Still Boils

CLEVELAND (AP) — With construction resuming at a school site that became a focal point in Cleveland's racial crisis, civil rights leaders planned another demonstration today.

It appeared the school board's downtown office building would be the target of the mass demonstration, but plans were still being worked out by United Freedom Movement leaders several hours before the start of the demonstration.

The UFM called on demonstrators to gather at 4 p. m. on the mall just off Public Square and west of the Board of Education building.

This is the hour when the board was to meet to take up the matter of setting a hearing on school construction and integration. Board President Ralph A. McAllister has indicated that hearing probably will start next week.

Construction of three new schools planned for the Glenview area on the east side would end the practice of bussing pupils from overcrowded schools in that predominantly Negro area to schools with plenty of space in predominantly white areas.

The UFM has accused the board of hastening to construct "ghetto" schools.

It was at the site of one of these new schools on Lakeview Road that the Rev. Bruce W. Klunder was crushed accidentally under a bulldozer during a demonstration last Tuesday. His death touched off a wave of rioting and violence.

Construction was halted at the school site. Edmund F. Smircina, school business manager, said the first step in resuming construction would be to build fences around construction areas.

The school board has secured a court order limiting picketing at the school sites.

Meanwhile, the Cleveland chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of White People (NAAWP) said it was postponing indefinitely plans for a march on City Hall in support of the neighborhood principle in school construction. John S. Barbic, chapter president, said the decision was made after polling members at a meeting Sunday.

"When there is so much violence we thought it best not to have a parade," said Barbic.

NEW GENERAL MANAGER — Henry J. Schroeder, 323 Woodlane, has been appointed division general manager for the Mid-West Medium Mills of Container Corporation of America, with full responsibility for the company's mills in Circleville; Carthage, Ind. and Noblesville, Ind. He will continue to maintain headquarters in Circleville. A graduate of the University of Cincinnati, Schroeder joined Container Corporation in 1946 as maintenance engineer and subsequently served as assistant mill superintendent. He was named plant manager of the Circleville mill in 1952, and consultant on the company's overseas operations from 1958 to 1960. He has been general manager of the Circleville mill since July 1961.

Lifetime Reading Habits Is Goal of Library Week

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is National Library Week. Mrs. Wilmina Wolford, acting librarian at the Pickaway County District Library has compiled some interesting statistics concerning the week-long event which ends Saturday. Much of her information deals with the local library operation.

The National Library Week program is a voluntary citizen's movement dedicated to the long-range goal of encouraging lifetime reading habits, increasing people's use of libraries and expanding and improving the total reading and library resources of the nation.

Simultaneous explosions in population, knowledge and technology create relentless new pressures for reading materials and for their maximum use and availability. Those who sponsor and participate in the program firmly believe that reading and libraries are truly means toward the full pursuit of life, liberty and happiness and are essential to the development of an informed, creative citizenry capable of making the many harsh choices and complex decisions that confront our society each day.

Each April, nationally and locally, Library Week is both climax and the starting point of many year-round activities that spur Americans to read more and to accept the responsibility for making reading opportunities more available to others.

The week enlists wide support because it presents reading as a desirable activity appealing to the various motives that impel people of all age groups to read for enjoyment, for inspiration and for knowledge. Within this framework, National Library Week emphasizes certain target areas each year, giving timeliness and freshness to the campaign. This reading development approach is an "umbrella" under which it is possible to alert the nation to the need for ever increasing use of and support for all types of libraries.

An annual report submitted to the board of trustees by Mrs. Enid Denham, former librarian, showed circulation figures for 1963 totaled 176,347 volumes, an increase of 23, 168 books and periodicals of 15.1 per cent over the number circulated in 1962. Total periodical circulations of 2,459 were recorded.

Of the 101,634 total circulation, 34,171 were non-fiction, 65,898 fiction, and 1,465 rentals. Most popular class of non-fiction reading for adults was fine arts which includes music, art, sports, flower arrangement, interior decoration, antiques and house plans. A very fine collection of art books purchased the year before were also popular. Useful arts was next in choice. This class included books on cars, airplanes, mechanics, agriculture, sewing and cooking. Periodicals and biography were two classes that ranked third and fourth in choice by adults at the main library.

During the year the parochial school received classroom collections large enough to cover their pupil enrollments, and a high school teacher selected and borrowed on long term loan 229 books to be kept in her classroom and use by her students in college preparatory classes. Many city and county schools sent classes to visit the library for instruction and use of library tools and reference materials.

Science Fair boosted the use of science collection: in both city and county. A special DAR contest promoted the increased demand for book of biographies and articles on Revolutionary heroes and heroines.

A total of 4,172 books were loaned to teachers with 3,969 circulations reported from these; 152 books were loaned to Circleville High School Library; 558 reference questions were recorded with 880 books consulted to answer these questions.

Total bookmobile circulations for 1963 was 74,713 an increase of 10,862 or 17 per cent.

Several trailer courts were added to the bookmobile schedule this past year. Of the total number of books taken for home use, 6,501 were adults, 68,212 juveniles, a ratio of 1 to 10.

A total of 4102 books were added to the library during 1963. In addition 898 books were borrowed from State Traveling Libraries Division for use on the bookmobile; 10,659 catalog cards were typed and filed in

MacArthur Tributes To Be Continued

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—Showery April skies were expected to dampen only slightly today the tempo of posthumous tribute to General of the Army Douglas MacArthur.

Officials of the MacArthur Memorial Museum said they anticipated that further thousands would line the sidewalk outside the imposing, columned building while awaiting their turn to view the sunken crypt where the general was interred last Saturday.

The memorial held its doors open until 9 p. m. Sunday—three hours beyond the normal closing time—to accommodate the more than 6,000 persons who came to pay their last respects.

It was scheduled to be open to the public today from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m., but there was a chance these hours would be extended again by heavy attendance.

More than 61,000 persons viewed the body of the general in Norfolk at the end of a week of extraordinary tribute to the man who led American soldiers into battle in three major wars. His burial here, a Navy town in which he never lived, was his request because it was the scene of his mother's birth and childhood.

The last rites Saturday under brilliant skies were attended by more than 400 civilian and military dignitaries, relatives, old comrades-in-arms and representatives of 10 foreign governments.

NEW COLOR TUBE

With this new tube, Motorola changes the shape of color television for good!

Motorola's new color tube is rectangular, not round!

This means you get a more natural looking picture—the same shape as your modern black-and-white set. Corners of the picture aren't "cut-off."

The picture's bigger than ordinary round color tube sets—23 inches overall diag. tube meas.; 27 1/4 in. picture viewing area. Yet the tube is approximately 5 inches shorter than ordinary round tubes. So cabinets can be slim, trim and attractive.

Chassis for this Rectangular Color TV was designed by Motorola and uses 16 Motorola patents for good performance. Every chassis is hand-wired, precision crafted with modern hand and dip soldering for circuit connections of high reliability.
